

WE VALUE YOUR INPUT

SAVE THE DATE! OCFS Needs Assessment Strategic Planning Meeting: Addressing the Health Needs of South Dakota Families and Individuals

The South Dakota Department of Health Office of Child and Family Services (OCFS) program has been conducting a five-year assessment regarding the health and well-being of women, children and youth, including those with special health care needs, and their families, to guide state and local public health initiatives and programs.

Please join us and contribute to this important collaborative conversation to:

- Review data findings from the assessment
- Identify priority performance measures, strategies, and activities to strengthen care and support programs for women, children, youth with special health care needs and their families.

Partner organizations and key stakeholders play an essential role in helping to improve services provided by the Office of Child and Family Services programs to support healthy families. To support long-term priority setting and planning efforts, OCFS invites community partners from:

- Non-profit agencies
- State, Tribal, and other governmental agencies
- Healthcare
- Schools
- Community Advocates
