Overview:

During this program, Sue Dill Calloway will discuss the Improving Medicare Post-Acute Care (IMPACT) Act and how it impacts hospital discharge planning. She will review the new regulations (published on Sept. 26) on timely patient access to medical records, the discharge planning process, discharge instructions and planning requirements. She will also review transfers to other facilities; assessment of 30-day readmissions; caregiver rights and recommendations; reduction of factors that lead to preventable readmissions; and timely discharge planning.

Calloway will identify what was not adopted by Centers for Medicare and Medicaid (CMS). In many sections that were not adopted, CMS made recommendations to hospitals. Additionally, she will briefly discuss the final surveyor worksheet for assessing compliance with the CMS hospital Conditions of Participation (CoPs) for discharge planning. Come join this important webinar to learn about to be compliant with the revised discharge planning standards.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this session, participants will be able to:

1. Identify the revised CMS discharge planning requirements that apply to all hospitals and critical access hospitals.
2. Explain how both patients and physicians can request a discharge planning evaluation.
3. Discuss how hospitalization information must be provided to the physician or provider before the first post-hospital visit.
4. Describe how patients have the right to get medical records, including a copy of their discharge plans, in a timely manner.
