

Survey Opportunity: South Dakota Brain Injury Needs Assessment

Are you a Brain Injury (BI) survivor (or the close family member of a BI survivor) living in South Dakota?

The University of South Dakota Center for Disabilities, in collaboration with South Dakota Department of Human Services, has partnered with the University of Missouri-Kansas City Institute for Human Development to learn more about the services and supports needs and challenges experienced by people with a brain injury in South Dakota. Information collected from the survey linked below will be used to inform efforts to better support brain injury survivors and their families statewide.

Complete the survey to make your voice heard - your input is so important to current and future work statewide!
